Florida Self-Verification Guide

Detecting Possible Misuse of Benefits and Services in Your Name (Parents, Caregivers, and Guardians)

Prepared by: Tocsin Data

Date: January 2, 2026

Purpose: This document provides a Florida-specific, legally safe pathway for parents, caregivers, and guardians to verify whether public benefits or services were billed, paid, or claimed using their own identity or that of a dependent, and outlines official steps to take when discrepancies are identified.

Introduction

Florida does not provide a single public, name-searchable clearinghouse that aggregates all benefit payments, child care subsidies, and health care claims. Records are maintained by individual agencies and program administrators under state and federal confidentiality rules. The recommended approach is self-verification: review official records you are legally entitled to access, confirm provider and program details using official tools, then escalate concerns through official dispute or fraud-reporting channels if warranted.

Section 1 — Licensed / Regulated Child Care Verification (Florida DCF)

Child care licensing and oversight in Florida are administered by the Florida Department of Children and Families (DCF). Parents and guardians can verify licensed child care facilities and family child care homes using the official state search tool.

1.1 Official provider search (public)

Section 2 — Child Care Subsidy / Voucher Program (Florida School Readiness)

Florida's primary child care subsidy program is the School Readiness Program, administered locally by Early Learning Coalitions under the oversight of the Florida Department of Education (FDOE). If you suspect a subsidy was used in your name or your child's name, review any official notices you received and request verification through the official program pathways below.

2.1 Official program information

2.2 Apply / manage benefits (official portal)

2.3 What parents/guardians should review

- Eligibility and authorization notices (approved dates, provider name, child identifiers).
- Provider license status using the official DCF Child Care Search (Section 1.1). [1]
- Dates of care/attendance versus your own records.
- Whether subsidy activity appears to continue after withdrawal, provider change, or non-attendance.

Section 3 — Medicaid / Health Claims Verification (Florida Medicaid) and Fraud Reporting

Florida Medicaid is administered by the Florida Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA). Health services billed under Medicaid generate claims records. If you suspect services were billed in your name or your child's name, request and review claims or explanation-of-benefits information through your managed care plan or AHCA member pathways, then report suspected fraud through official channels.

3.1 AHCA — Medicaid fraud and abuse reporting

Section 4 — Public Records Requests (Florida Public Records Law)

Florida public records access is governed by Chapter 119, Florida Statutes. Records involving minors, benefit cases, and protected health information may be exempt or restricted; however, parents and guardians may request records they are legally entitled to receive and request explanations for denials or redactions.

Section 5 — Reporting Suspected Benefit Fraud (Florida)

If you suspect misuse of benefits or services, preserve documentation first (letters, notices, provider names, dates, and any case identifiers you lawfully possess), then report through official channels only. Avoid public accusations.

5.1 DCF public assistance fraud reporting

Florida DCF — Public Assistance Fraud:

5.2 Medicaid-related reporting (AHCA)

AHCA — Medicaid Fraud and Abuse:

Section 6 — Public “Red Flag” Patterns (For Awareness Only)

The following indicators do not prove misconduct, but may justify additional verification:

- Date mismatch: claims or payments on days services were not received.
- Provider mismatch: provider listed that the family never used.
- Duration mismatch: billing continues after withdrawal or termination.
- Authorization mismatch: services exceed authorized scope.
- Identity mismatch: records referencing an unfamiliar dependent.
